The MMS (Mathematics and Mathematical Sciences) Workshop for Young Researchers aims to encourage interactions between exceptional young researchers in mathematics and mathematical sciences from abroad and graduate students and postdoctoral fellows at Kyoto University. This year there are four parallel sessions in the workshop: representation theory, topology, theory of operator algebras, and applied mathematics. In addition, a poster session will be held for all fields in mathematics and mathematical sciences. This workshop is supported by “The MMS Innovation Course for Graduate Students in Kyoto University”.

Plenary Speaker

Miyu Suzuki (Kyoto University)

Guest Speakers

Ilya Dumanski (Simons Laufer Mathematical Science Institute)

Eric Yen-Yo Chen (Ecole Polytechnique de Lausanne)

Daniel Galvin (University of Texas at Austin)

Weizhu Niu (Tsinghua University)

Thimothée Bénard (Université Sorbonne Paris-Nord)

Stéphane Dartois (University of Bordeaux)

Allen G. Hart (University of Warwick)

Polly Y. Yu (University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign)

Parallel Sessions

Representation theory

Ilya Dumanski (Simons Laufer Mathematical Science Institute)

Eric Yen-Yo Chen (Ecole Polytechnique de Lausanne)

Wenda Fang (Research Institute for Mathematics Sciences, Kyoto University)

Shunsuke Hirota (Kyoto University)

Topology

Daniel Galvin (University of Texas at Austin)

Weizhu Niu (Tsinghua University)

Yudai Ueda (Research Institute for Mathematics Sciences, Kyoto University)
Wu Hao (Kyoto University)

Theory of Operator Algebras

Thimothée Bénard (Université Sorbonne Paris-Nord)
Stéphane Dartois (University of Bordeaux)
Hiroo Kamikawa (Kyoto University)
Hiroto Nishikawa (Research Institute for Mathematics Sciences, Kyoto University)

Applied Mathematics

Allen G. Hart (University of Warwick)
Polly Y. Yu (University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign)
Makoto Hara (Kyoto University)
Pyae Hein Htet (Kyoto University)
